Interest Form for AIM's Community of Practice to Optimize Infant Protection Against RSV

This form is designed to help the Association of Immunization Managers (AIM) understand each interested jurisdiction's capacity and objectives for participating in the Community of Practice (CoP) to Optimize Infant Protection Against RSV. AIM will select dyads of jurisdiction immunization programs and birthing hospitals using the criteria described in the announcement guidelines.

AIM will notify each jurisdiction of its submission status the week of March 9, 2026.

Any questions about the CoP process should be directed to AIM Vaccine Access Policy Associate Director, Katy Gore, at kgore@immunizationmanagers.org.

How to Apply

- Please submit this form and any optional letters of support via email to Katy Gore at kgore@immunizationmanagers.org by 8 pm ET Friday, February 27, 2026.

Your submission must include:

- This completed form
- Letter(s) of support from a specific birthing hospital (optional)

Team Composition:

- Immunization programs should identify a core team of at least two and up to six members to participate in the CoP. Teams must include either the jurisdiction's immunization program manager or the Vaccines for Children (VFC) manager, provided that individual has decision making authority. Team members should be individuals who can directly support the goal of enrolling birthing hospitals in the VFC program and supporting their administration of RSV mAb during the birth hospitalization.
- Additional team members (up to a total of six members) could include immunization information system (IIS) staff, others with a technical understanding of HL7 standards, representatives from the perinatal quality improvement collaborative, or others who can directly support the team's goals of enrolling the birthing hospital in the VFC program and supporting their administration of RSV mAb at the first available opportunity.

What is your partnering birthing hospital?

1. Please describe the barriers you see in meeting the below CoP requirements.

Each immunization program team will be expected to:

- Maintain a core team of at least two members. Members should be individuals responsible for decision making who oversee policies related to birthing hospital participation in the VFC program. Jurisdictions are welcome to have additional team members (up to six total team members).
- Estimated time commitment: 3-5 hours per month, including calls every month and independent work. Plus, associated VFC site visits and trainings.
 - Participate in CoP launch call
 - Develop a project plan for enrolling the chosen birthing hospital in the VFC program and work toward accomplishing goals and actionable steps to achieve these goals.
 - Participate in monthly team technical assistance calls (March-August) with the birthing hospital in their jurisdiction and AIM staff to identify progress and barriers as well as identify any emerging technical assistance needs.
 - Revise project plans as necessary to accomplish the goal of enrolling in VFC during the six-month technical assistance period and preparing to administer RSV mAb during the 2026-2027 RSV season.
 - Participate in group activities as planned, including two multi-team calls.

Please note: This form does not commit you, nor does it guarantee your participation.

Participants selected to join will receive an email of selection confirming their intent to participate on the week of March 9, 2026. There is no funding available to programs for their participation in this project.
